WORLD WAR II VETERANS INVITED TO VIEW NAPLES MUSEUM OF ART EXHIBITION MARCH 7

Memories of World War II* features more than 100 AP photographs

World War II veterans are invited to view the photography exhibition Memories of World War II and to share their remembrances with one another at the Patty & Jay Baker Naples Museum of Art on Wednesday, March 7, from 3-4 p.m. A coffee and juice reception will follow at 4 p.m. Admission is free for World War II veterans.

The exhibition Memories of World War II features Associated Press photographs from all theaters of the Second World War and the home front, ranging from familiar scenes of Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor to Joe Rosenthal's classic Iwo Jima flag-raising in 1945 to dozens of pictures not seen in decades. Many photos credit AP staff photographers by name; others came from anonymous Army or Navy photographers. Some of the photographers were killed in combat; others went on to postwar prominence.

"This is a fascinating and often moving exhibition that captures a pivotal time in U.S. and world history," said Philharmonic Center CEO and President Kathleen van Bergen. "We are pleased and honored to welcome our veterans who lived through this era."

The exhibition is being presented in the Philharmonic Galleries at the Naples Museum of Art.

The Patty & Jay Baker Naples Museum of Art is open Tuesday-Saturday, 10 a.m.-4 p.m. and Sunday, noon -4 p.m. The museum is located at 5833 Pelican Blvd., Naples. For more information, please call (800) 597-1900 or visit ThePhil.org.
